RE: Videoconference proceedings

The Department of Workers' claims is pleased to announce that all administrative law judges now have the capacity to conduct videoconference proceedings through the Zoom platform. Parties wishing to schedule a videoconference proceeding should contact the assigned ALJ for further details and instruction. Videoconferences will only be scheduled if all parties agree to participate. The Department is committed to promoting videoconference proceedings in light of the on-going prohibition of in-person proceedings and in order to facilitate the timely resolution of claims. For additional information, please contact Chief Administrative Law
